

Thoughts on Recent Elizabeth Township PA Commissioners Meeting

- Bill Piper

At a recent Commissioners workshop meeting a resident stood to voice his concerns about the noise levels he has been hearing coming from the new well being constructed by the high school. The noise levels were above the agreed to in our ordinances. He was told he has to fill out a complaint form. They had trouble finding it on the website.

As he was returning to his seat another citizen asked him, "Don't you hear the football games from the high school that's a half mile away from your home? What about that noise? The speaker replied that there are ordinances the gas company agreed to follow to operate here and they are violating them. The second man said, "I don't give a shit about ordinances!"

Now the funny thing is this guy sits on the Planning Commission!! With an attitude like that, what's he doing on the Board? What do YOU think?
